Chairman's Message

For more than 26 years, I have been a member of the Ivy Foundation. I quickly realized that this organization was essential to the well-being of the city and community where I grew up.

In 2016, when I became Chairman of the Ivy Foundation, I had four primary goals:

1. To ensure the organization's sustainability and compliance in meeting all Federal and District of Columbia nonprofit rules and regulations.
2. To implement a Board of Directors giving program to increase the unrestricted revenue of the Foundation.
3. To update and streamline the process and procedures for fundraising.
4. To establish a planned giving campaign for the scholarship fund.

While there were many obstacles, the Board was able to achieve all four goals and more. I am most proud that the Foundation established the Ivy Leaves program. More than $50,000 was pledged in planned giving donations to keep our scholarship fund sustained. The Foundation held more than eight town halls/educational sessions, providing members an opportunity to learn more about its business operations. The Foundation created its first fact sheet, a tool to share our successes and data with the community and potential partners. Foundation members approved our official logo, for which trademark registration paperwork has been submitted. Lastly, the Foundation's first annual meeting packet was created, and updates to our scholarship procedures and application were made.

I want to welcome our new Chairman, Courtney Coffey, and all of the new Board members.

Finally, I want to thank all of you: the Board of Directors, members of the Ivy Foundation, volunteers, partners, and contributors who provide the lifeline to the Foundation. The activities of the Ivy Foundation continue to provide not only programs, services, and resources to the communities in need in the District, but also work diligently to promote service through all mankind.

It has been my honor to serve as Chairman of the Board for these past four years.

Chairman 2016-2019

Executive Director's Message

Dear Friends and Supporters,

A new year always seems to bring about talk of change, growth, and moving forward. It offers a refreshing view of the path ahead. As we look to future days, our goal is to continue to grow with integrity.

The Ivy Foundation remains true to its commitment to providing young people opportunities to achieve healthy and productive outcomes, supporting academic achievement and higher education, promoting community economic development, and encouraging volunteerism through community service. Increasingly demanding times require us to be ever more thoughtful in deploying our volunteer and financial resources to build a healthy and vibrant community.

From encouraging healthy lifestyles through health and wellness education and making donations to various organizations engaged in medical research; to our scholarships and helping students complete the college application process successfully; to supporting families in need through our donation of eyeglasses to the Lions Club and shoes to Soles for Souls; to maintaining our support of the senior citizens at Asbury Dwellings; to educating the public on financial planning, asset accumulation, and wealth-building; and to encouraging youth to embrace the arts; our ongoing body of work encompasses and reflect the realities and complexity of the community we serve.

We are especially proud of the recipients of our 2019 scholarships. They are academically-talented and exemplify excellence in all of their endeavors. They also demonstrate exceptional leadership potential and a commitment to public service.

I wish to extend my sincere appreciation to the Board of Directors, members, volunteers, and friends for their invaluable contributions and help to make a positive difference in the lives of the many people we serve. In part, our effectiveness is due to the mutually respectful relationships we have forged with our community partners.

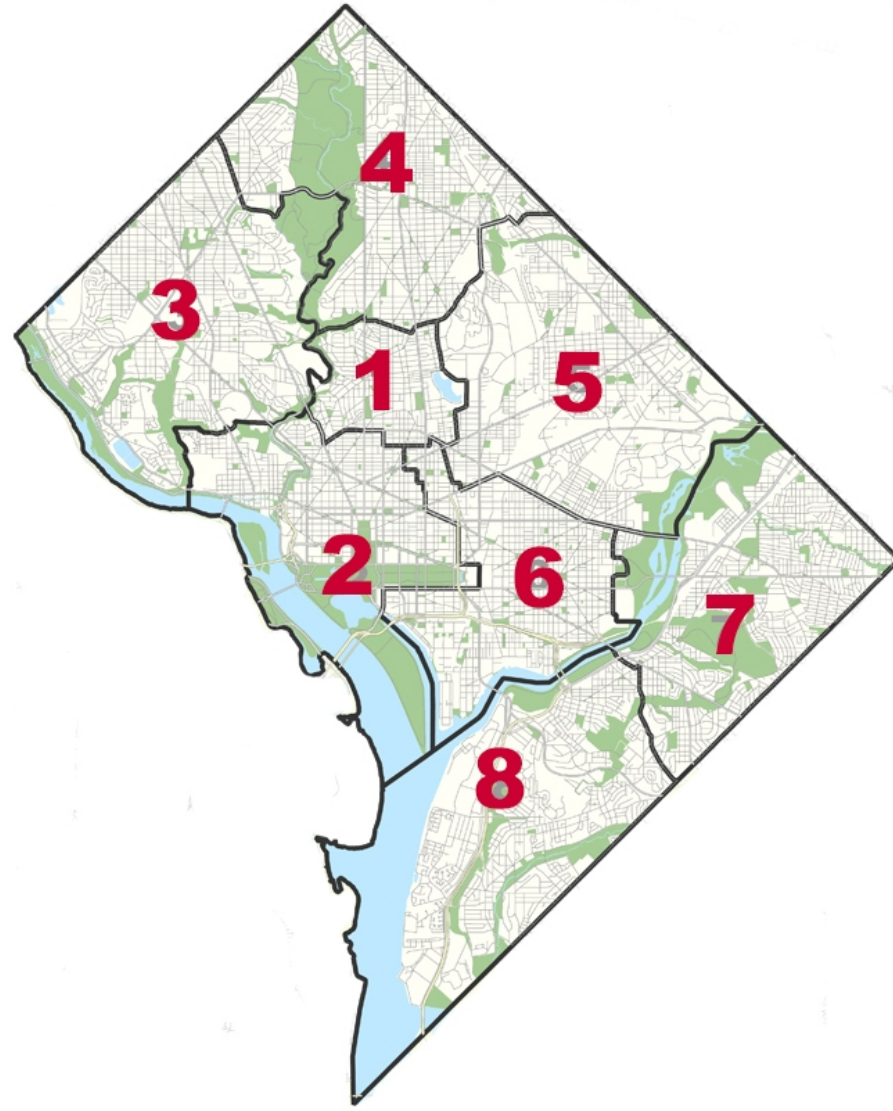

Thank you for your continuing support of the Ivy Foundation.

Rosalie H. Stroman

Our Community

Washington, D.C., had an estimated population of 711,571 in 2019, which makes it the 22nd most populous city in the United States. The median age in Washington, D.C., is 33.8 years, with a slight gender gap between female (52.5%) and male (47.5%) residents across the city.

According to the most recent American Community Survey, the racial composition of the District Of Columbia was:

- Black or African American: 47.75%
- White: 40.67%
- Other race: 4.60%
- Asian: 3.80%
- Two or more races: 2.87%
- Native American: 0.26%
- Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander: 0.04%

Health Status

The health status of individuals is usually reflective of income, education, and levels of poverty. Those who have less tend also to have poorer qualities of health. There's an old saying in some African American communities that is often applied to the broad-stroke disparity of our nation's economy and health. "When white folks catch a cold, black folks get pneumonia."

According to the 2017 Annual Report of the Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS), the following data points were found:

- Wards 7 and 8 had a household median income of less than $41,000 compared to all other wards whose household median income is more than $60,000. Wards 2 and 3 had a household median income of greater than $100,000.
- Heart disease and cancer were the top 2 leading causes of death.
- HIV was among the top 10 leading causes of death in Wards 5, 7, and 8.
- Diabetes was among the top 10 leading causes of death in all wards.
- Ward 3 residents were more likely to be diagnosed with high cholesterol, have health care coverage, and have an annual wellness exam. They are also more likely not to use a condom, never be tested for HIV, and diagnosed with arthritis, cancer, and depressive disorder.
- Ward 7 residents were more likely to have had difficulty remembering and concentrating, rate their health fair or poor, and be diagnosed with high blood pressure. They are also more likely to be obese, diagnosed with pre-diabetes, and had eaten fruit less than once per day and vegetables at least once per day. The residents are more likely not to have a flu shot, be diagnosed with arthritis, asthma, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, diabetes, and heart disease.
- Ward 8 residents were more likely to have had difficulty remembering and concentrating, rate their health fair or poor, and be diagnosed with high blood pressure. They also cite having 14 or more days of poor mental health and are considered obese and pre-diabetic. While having an annual exam, they do not engage in exercise or eat fruit and vegetables once. The residents are more likely to be diagnosed with asthma, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, diabetes, heart disease, and kidney disease.
